

Poster Proposal

I am proposing a poster that will compare the average age of mother when she has her first child with mean annual income per county. I am gathering the childbirth data from the CDC and I will gather income data from the census website American Fact Finder.

I predict that the lower income areas will have a lower average age when giving birth to their first child. I predict this because I assume that lower income individuals have babies at a younger age.

I will demonstrate this with two maps on my poster.